

LL.M. International Business Law Paris

This program deals mainly with practical case studies and certain key subjects, with a pluridisciplinary focus. It prepares students and professionals for operations such as large acquisitions or market transactions, cross border mergers, complex financing, restructuring, LBOs, financial engineering, and industrial projects. These are interesting operations, offering difficulties that often lead to innovative solution seeking. It is particularly educational to study them and analyze the legal, financial or accounting issues raised. Thus, contracts, guarantees, financing and international trade litigation, among other basic subjects, can be studied from different angles.

"I genuinely think that the experience and the exposure to different teaching styles in one of the most renowned law university in France – Paris II Panthéon-Assas University has given me a different perspective about my further professional life. I have been extremely impressed with the combination of deep theoretical and practical study methods at the Sorbonne-Assas International Law School. Therefore I believe that the majority of legal courses delivered reveal the spirit and the contemporary tendencies in jurisprudence."

Daniela Peñaranda
Paris campus 2019-2020

"I found the LL.M. to be a remarkably interesting and rewarding pursuit. The program's curriculum is structured to provide a broad perspective on some of today's most relevant issues in international business law. As the subject matter was taught by a mix of tenured university faculty and leading practitioners from esteemed law firms, we acquired theoretical as well as practical insights on the material. Our class was composed of students from around the world, which provided and enriching combination of perspectives from a variety of legal systems and cultures"

Kohki Yoshii
Paris campus 2018-2019

"This LL.M. equipped me with a wide range of international business law knowledge through lectures and case studies. I found the LL.M. to be well-balanced as professors at Paris II Panthéon-Assas University gave theoretical lectures, and practitioners at prominent law firms taught us how to apply the theories to actual cases through interactive classes. The knowledge I acquired in this LL.M. is very helpful to my current work, which deals with international power plant projects. In addition, it was a great opportunity to meet new people from all over the world with different backgrounds, who have become life-long friends."
